

A. Hatzopoulos S.A., founded in Thessaloniki, Greece in 1931, develops flexible packaging solutions and today is one of the fastest growing packaging converters in Europe, employing over 430 people. Our mode of operation and corporate culture are absolutely client-centric; throughout our long history we learned that successfully addressing client-specific needs requires more than a functional mastery of polymer conversion technology and rotogravure/flexography printing processes. Therefore, and in addition to our specialist knowledge of the flexible packaging materials market, we place equal emphasis on technical excellence and customer care.
